Connetic

Veteran IT Professionals at your Service Around the Clock

Solid credentials, local provider, flat monthly rates – no surprises

Connetic offers technology services to help companies stay focused on what is most important – their business – and worry less about their IT system which can be complex and at times fragile and prone to failure. From general exposure to the Internet to spam to spyware, a network's environment can at times lead to more problems than it's seemingly worth.

Today's businesses need substantial technology support without a substantial price tag. They need it to be reliable, flexible – both tactical and strategic – and, preferably local. Enter Connetic.

Seasoned Specialists

Connetic recognizes that when a company hires technology advisors they expect them to be practiced experts, not freshman technicians. Connetic is made up of veteran specialists who have decades of experience. Moreover, its principal Matthew Strebe has written and published more than a dozen technical books used by companies including Microsoft to train IT staff. For more than a decade, Connetic has built its reputation and expertise by serving an impressive roster of clients including United Way of San Diego, Anadys Pharmaceuticals, Pyramid Precision and GeneOhm Sciences to name a few.

Strategic and Tactical Asset without the Hiring Liabilities

Connetic provides solutions for companies with and without existing IT support staff. Offering IT services including 24-hour help desk and on-site desktop and server support, Connetic utilizes its advanced support process to quickly receive help requests directly from any user, diagnose and remotely repair or immediately dispatch a technician. Connetic has the ability to seamlessly integrate its services into a company's existing IT capabilities to help them work more efficiently and effectively. From onsite repair and recovery to remote monitoring to Virtual CIO for IT planning and strategy development, Connetic is there when a company needs them, a virtually "invisible" competitive weapon.

Fortune 500 Services at Flat Rates – No Surprises

Connetic brings proven best practices from Fortune 500 companies and shares them with its clients at a fixed price-per-month fee determined by the number of computers or users. This includes toll free 24-hour help desk support, help ticket and project management systems, on-site and on-call IT professionals, security monitoring and updating and strategic consulting. Prices never vary based on how much support is needed, no up charges or added fees – ever. Simply put, Connetic is like having highly talented, completely accessible employees for less than half the price of employees.
